Among the World Book Day 2018 School Workshops you can choose from are...

A Visit from Bookman – Character visit

The world's newest superhero, Bookman has the extraordinary power of bringing stories to life – and he'll fly into your school all set to help your pupils in doing the same. Armed with his trusty Book Bag, he'll make an unexpected appearance at an assembly before leading classes through a series of exciting, engaging and enticing drama workshops (all differentiated for age). And the outcomes? A series of powerfully persuasive dramas promoting their chosen stories.

Bookman Rides Again!

If you enjoyed A Visit from Bookman last year, who not invite the homemade superhero back in 2018 – for Bookman Rides Again! After reacquainting himself with the children at an assembly, he'll meet each year group in turn, challenging them, in age-appropriate ways to tell the story of the day he found himself inside one of the books from his library! Using a range of drama approaches, they'll weave magical narratives combining well-known stories and Bookman himself!

Scenes from Shakespeare

Shakespeare was a superb storyteller – and his stories still survive unscathed today! These exciting workshops, though, take him back to his roots – by taking a dramatic approach to his work. Working with one of our professional drama specialists, pupils will get an actor's-eye-view of one of his plays – and have a chance to taste the text too!

The Story That Saved the Day

Books and their authors really can change our lives for the better. From helping us identify and identify with people like ourselves to unleashing our imaginations to roam in fantastical worlds. Beginning with a whole-school assembly in which we share with your pupils a book that's shaped our lives, The Story That Saved the Day leads into a series of workshops in which pupils consider and/or invent other transformative stories – and celebrate them through visual art.

Fiction Fusion

How does a cover make you want to open the book? Through exploring this questions, children will create their own unique bookplates – each one representing a hybrid of two of their favourite works!

Jigsaw Stories

How well do pupils know well-loved tales? Having pieced together the key moments of given story in the correct order, small groups then dramatise scenes, culminating in a whole-class retelling of the tale.

The Power of Stories - Author visit

Inspired by Jessica Shepherd's acclaimed book Grandma, and led by the author/illustrator herself, this beautiful workshop encourages children to think about people they love – and allows them to create their own illustrated books exploring ways that working together can overcome problems.
